

That the Australian Government should separate legitimate commercial banking functions from the speculative activities of investment banks.

From: Shane Ellis.