

Dear sirs and mesdames, Australian Politicians, in the past, have perpetrated two very serious, in my opinion, acts of criminal negligence. ONE; They have signed away Australia's sovereign rights to print and issue our own debt free interest free currency and credit creation. Australia possessed it's own "golden goose" and our incompetent politicians gave the "right" away, to Private Interests and received absolutely nothing in return, except the very dubious privilege to now pay interest on loans that condemned Australia to debt slavery. To add insult to injury, dating from the time President Reagan removed the "gold standard" all currencies became worthless pieces of paper, backed only by the issuing Government's assurance, and the "Private" printing presses have been working overtime ever since. This situation being the chief cause of all Government debt,! because the interest charged on their loans could never be repaid. TWO; Then we were all blessed by President Clinton, by his lifting and removal of the very financial controls and regulations that separated High Street Banks from the large Financial Institutions, those controls designed to protect our domestic economies, thus preventing those domestic economies from going "bust". The system that had proved itself, since the end of the second world war, to be capable of both protecting our economies and domestic private interests, from the more rapacious loss and ravages of Private International financial Institutions. Restoring "Glass Stegal" is a no-brainer, even blind Freddy and his dog understand that.
