

Dear sirs; I respectfully submit the following.

Trading banks produce profit, goods and services and require no support.

Speculative banking produces nothing and is only money shuffling money to make a financial gain. It is gambling with other peoples money and deserves no support.

'Bail in" is pure theft. The legislation to introduce " Glass-Steagal" must be immediately implemented to separate the two classes of Banking

Yours Sincerely Alfred William Williams