Subject: Proposed changes to Franking Credits

I am writing to give my perspective on your proposed changes to Franking Credits.

I am a SMSF retiree.

I have depended heavily on Franking Credits to fund my retirement.

If your proposed changes go ahead, the relevant share prices will drop and I will miss out on franking credits.

A double hit to my finances.

I don't receive any benefits nor do I have access to any concession cards or other discounts.

The way inflation is going is incredibly scary. I don't know how long I will be able to continue to support myself.

Once you are retired it is hard to keep up with inflation without taking significant risks.

All very well for you public servants and your pensions. You don't need to worry about where the next dollar is coming from.

Why is government continually trying to target self funded retirees?

For those of us who are border line to being able to support ourselves, this just seems to be the last straw.

Why aren't you doing everything you can to encourage me to continue to support myself rather than becoming a further drain on the government.

At this point I am very disappointed with the current government.

I made sacrifices to put as much as I could afford into my super fund.

I know that my children don't have the same attitude. They are probably a lot smarter than me!

This constant tinkering is certainly eroding trust in the government.

Yours sincerely
